CHILDREN SHOULD HAVE TO PLAY SPORT

I know that children should have to play sport because it is good for you. Sport is good because you are getting fit and if you don’t do sport you will become very fat.

Children should have to play sport because it is good for them. Because it teaches you skills and very important life skills. For example if children learn how to swim they can go to the beach and pool and not be afraid of drowning, no matter how old they are.

Another reason why children should have to play sport is because it keeps them fit. It is important to have fit kids because in the future you don’t just want to see fat people all around you. For example we already have a number of obese children and we want an end to this. So making our children do Sport will help them prevent obesity.

The last reason why children have to play sport is because if you stay at home doing nothing you will get really fat. For example if you’re playing around it wouldn’t be the same as sitting at home and doing nothing and being lazy.

Children should be made to do sport because of the reasons I have just stated.

Should Children Play Sport or Not?

I strongly disagree with this argument because of these reasons. My first reason is it causes injuries, breaks confidence and causes asthma and cancer. Children shouldn’t play sport in case they get injured. To get injured in a game you would have to trip over someone or something. For example: If you were playing soccer, Oz tag, rugby (etc.) and someone pushes you out of the way you can break your ankle. So you can clearly see that’s unsafe to play sport.

Children shouldn’t play sport because it can break their confidence. Confidence is important because if you don’t have confidence you can’t do anything that is fun. For example: If you injure yourself really badly, you’re afraid that it’ll happen again breaking your confidence.

After these reasons you’ll be able to see that it’s bad to play sport because you can break your confidence. Children shouldn’t play sport in case they have an asthma attack. If a child has an asthma attack their lungs hurt and they need to go to hospital, especially if you have a friend over. For example: If your parents don’t know that you have asthma and you’re at a friend’s house they wouldn’t know what’s happening unless their children or child has asthma. It’s not safe to play sport if you don’t know that you have asthma.

Children shouldn’t play sport in case they spend way too much time outside and develop cancer. If a child is outside for too long although it would take a very long time they can develop cancer. If a child has cancer they can spend too much time in hospital. For example: If a child has cancer and it’s close to their birthday no-one would want to spend their birthday in hospital.

So you can now see you shouldn’t play sport in case you spend too much time outside and develop cancer. So after hearing all of my reasons I can safely say that all children shouldn’t play sport.
